An exclusive club

HOW the other half lives! A new club in Sydney called Limited Edition is seeking 300 members prepared to pay up to $18,000 a year for access to a range of luxury cars, boats and holiday homes.

Managing director Shane van den Barselaar said the club had been formed for “those time poor, but cash rich Australians who work hard but may not always have the time to enjoy the fruits of their labour”.

The slogan for Limited Edition is “one life, one club”. Just thought you would like to know.
