

Limited opportunity

IF YOU LAY awake at night, worried about whether to buy the Lambo or Ferrari, relax, you can now have both. And just to ensure you get a good night's sleep, you can also have a Bentley, Porsche, Jag and BMW.

This, and life's other tough questions, have been answered by Sydney company Limited Edition, which has launched Australia's first invitation-only luxury lifestyle club.

The club offers its members access to a fleet of the world's finest high performance cars, as well as impressive watercraft, a portfolio of luxury holiday homes and a range of exciting events and experiences.

Limited Edition's vehicles include Ferrari F430 Spider, Lamborghini Gallardo, Bentley Continental GT, Porsche 911 Turbo, Jaguar XKR Convertible, Aston Martin V8 Vantage, Maserati Gransport, BMW M3 and Mercedes SL350, plus others.

Limited Edition chief, Shane van den Barselaar, says the club was formed for cash-rich Aussies who work hard but may not always have the time to enjoy the fruits of their labour.

Barselaar says members avoid the anxieties of hi-po vehicle ownership such as depreciation, insurance, maintenance, taxes and storage.

Membership is restricted to 300 people, with two levels of membership, Platinum and Gold offering different degrees of access to 'The Collection'. Annual membership fees range from $12,000 – $18,000.
